There's more to you than your resume.

Most recruiters and job boards focus solely on matching your skills with the right job description which diminishes other important factors such as a company's culture, values, and respect for work/life balance.

At CSS, we believe your job should reward your humanity as well as your accomplishments.

Sometimes, it just takes someone who believes in you to make the difference.

This was true of Professional Staffing Group's founder, Donna Pearson. All it took was one person who believed in her abilities to plant the seed for a 27-year legacy of bringing a personalized, human-first approach to recruiting.

That's how we've earned recognition for our growth as a company and commitment to service from publications like Forbes, Inc., and Smart CEO. It all starts by caring deeply for the people we serve.

"In past experiences, I felt like the recruiter was just trying to get me to take the job for their own benefit. This was the exact opposite of that experience. Both Ashley and the company were beyond helpful and couldn't have made the process any better. I can not thank Ashley and her team enough for getting me the perfect job."
