You shouldn't have to carry the burden of home restoration on your own.

The process is a constant source of anxiety because it feels like you're expected to be the expert in managing restorations.

Somehow, you're supposed to know how to:

- Identify trustworthy contractors for repairs.
- Manage an expanding list of contractors and sub-contractors as your work gets passed along.
- Coordinate with the insurance company on budgets and estimates.
- Make critical interior design decisions on colors, cabinets, countertops, and more.

Relieve the stress and restore your home as soon as possible.

Our guided, seamless process returns you to a home that's more beautiful than ever before.

"As a Realtor I only like to refer clients to those who are the best in the industry. Strong Wall Construction is always at the top of my list. They're extremely reliable and always put their clients first. Typically, they are dealing with very difficult situations such as flooded basements or house fires, and the guys at Strong Wall always come through. When my clients are happy, so am I. I would recommend them any day."

- Kelly P.

"Our experience with with the Strong Wall Construction Company was amazing from start to finish. We had storm wind damage to our roof. They sent sent Clayton out to tarp the roof. He was on time, professional, and did an excellent job making sure no further damage was done. Rob Schini did the estimate and took care of contacting my insurance. Rob came to our home and walked through everything with us. Eric Long was the worksite manager, and his crew did an amazing job. These guys are amazing."

- Terri L.
